Total Notification Considerations: _____

PART III: DEPARTURE LANGUAGE

The risk level is calculated from aggregating the risk facts and other standard notification considerations is “presumptive” because the Department/Committee may depart from it if special circumstances warrant. The ability to depart is premised on a recognition that an objective instrument, no matter how well designed, will not fully capture the nuances of every case. Not to allow for departures would therefore deprive the Department/Committee of the ability to exercise sound judgment and to apply its expertise to the offender. Of course, were there to be a departure in every case, the objective instrument would be of minimal value. The expectation is that the instrument will result in the proper classification in most cases so that departures will be the exception not the rule.

Scientific literature demonstrates that intrafamilial sex offenders pose a lower risk of recidivism than other types of sex offenders. Additionally, the group of persons to whom they pose a risk upon release (judged by the identity of their past victim (s)) is very small compared with other offenders. Therefore, in order to effectuate the goal of the notification statute, offenders who are strictly intrafamilial offenders will presumptively be classified as Risk Level I.

Generally, the Department/Committee may not depart from the presumptive risk level unless it concludes that there exists an aggravating or mitigating factor of a kind, or to a degree, not otherwise adequately taken into account by the guidelines. Circumstances that may warrant a departure cannot by their nature be comprehensively listed in advance. The departure must be justified in writing and have the support of the majority of Department/Committee members.
